Janitors Refused Wage Increase Over $100

School Board Stands Firm on Its Initial Increase of $100 To School Janitors; Teachers To Meet Board This Sunday.

Salary increases asked by the staff and janitors continue to absorb the greater portion of the school board's attention. Last Sunday morning with Chairman Evans, and Trustees Holly, Bomben and Cornett in attendance a three hour meeting was dominated by a delegation of the janitors who sought a greater increase than the $100 offered by the board.

The janitors have asked for a straight $40 per month raise over the prevailing salary of $1850. The two women janitors received a yearly salary of $900. The board countered with a straight $100 boost for all five janitors. This was acceptable to the two women who acknowledged their acceptance in writing. The board was unmoved by the arguments from the two man delegation as regards increased cost of living and stated that the $100 increase was all that it was prepared to offer.

Chairman Evans revealed that the board had been asked to meet the teachers' salary negotiating committee next Sunday. The teachers have asked for a straight $800 across the board. The school board has countered with a $150 increase.

The janitors' supplies for the entire year were ordered to be listed and purchased.

Mr. O. Celli, contractor, was present, and much time was spent in discussing the Cameron school roof. Mr. Celli gave a detailed report of his inspection of the roof which revealed that it had deteriorated badly and required immediate attention. It is proposed to insulate the roof and the Works and Property committee was authorized to secure prices on the work and submit them at the next meeting.

In order to add the janitors in high school it is intended to pipe water from central school to the high school.

All school fire extinguishers are to be re-charged.

It is planned to keep fresh frozen foods in the deep freeze so that customers will be able to get out-of-season fruits and vegetables at all times. The west coast is now shipping in fresh frozen foods which retain their fresh state and such foods can now be had by stores equipped with refrigerators to keep them frozen until purchased by the customer.

The deep freeze machine was purchased through The Motor-drome.

Last year forest fires destroyed enough timber to build over 80,000 five room houses!

HOLYKE'S STORE INSTALLS NEW FREEZER

To continue abreast of new trends in the grocery business Holyke's store two weeks ago installed a new and spacious freezer.

As a result the management has been taking delivery of fresh fruits and vegetables from the Fraser Valley in British Columbia as well as stocking a fairly large volume of ice cream. They reveal that they have enjoyed a heavy sale of frozen foods since obtaining the freezer and that results to date have justified their decision to install the freezer and give their customers out-of-season foodstuffs.

Fernie To Build Hospital At Cost Of $225,000

A new general hospital is now practically assured for the city of Fernie. The tender of Marvyn Construction Company, Vancouver, costing $223,000 on a cost-plus basis with a ceiling of $225,000 was accepted at the annual meeting of the Fernie Hospital Association.

Fernie has $31,000 on hand through contributions and hospital funds, provincial grant of $74,300 and the City of Fernie's $55,000, making a grand total of $170,000 with which it is hoped to construct and equip the hospital.

Pincher Creek is also seeking tenders on a new hospital which is only slightly smaller than the Crows Nest Pass Municipal hospital. Once the new hospital is constructed, equipped and in operation the present Pincher Creek hospital will be renovated.

Mrs. Walter Blyth spent part of the Easter holidays visiting her two daughters and their respective husbands at Kimberley.

Miss Betty McEwen, of Calgary, was the Easter holiday guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert McEwen.

Foundations and Floor Plans Secured By Palace Theatre

Tuesday morning Mr. Len Purnell advised The Journal that the foundation and floor plans had been received from architects Meech, Mitchell & Meech, Lethbridge.

Receipt of the floor plans permits ordering of seats as the floor plan has to be submitted to the company in order that it can determine the style of seats required for the style of floor to be constructed.

The two lots upon which the theatre is to be constructed are practically ready and since the foundation plans have been secured it is anticipated that work will start on this phase of the building soon. With the possible exception of seats no difficulty is anticipated in the delivery of equipment required in the projection room.

Local Cancer Campaign Plans Drafted

Increased Number of Canvasers and Smaller Zones to Feature Campaign at End of April.

Coleman Lions club at its supper meeting on Monday night heard a report on the proposed cancer drive in Coleman under the sponsorship of the Lions club towards the latter part of April.

Fred Guerdar revealed that an increased number of canvasers were to be used over last year and that the town has been zoned in such manner that each team would have a smaller area to cover.

The national drive starts April 19 but in order to get increased publicity from the newspapers and radio it was agreed that the local drive be held off for a week. Last year $1100 was received locally and it is hoped to reach that figure this year.

Herb Hewitt gave a detailed report on his attendance at a meeting in Blairmore recently at which all Pass service clubs and Blairmore Elks discussed the question of maintaining operation of the Turtle Mountain Playground swimming pool this spring and summer. He revealed that between $1500 to $2,000 would be required to operate the pool and in addition a figure ranging from $500 to $1,800 would be needed to give free transportation to Pass children to travel to and from the pool.

Discussion brought out the point that it was estimated that there were 1500 school children in the Pass and only 10% of them used the pool. Basing Coleman share at $600 and allowing for 600 local students it required 200 season tickets to be sold at $3 each. This was 33% of the students and this was considered impossible of achievement for several reasons. The club refused to commit itself on any financial arrangement.

Elks and Royal Purple to Celebrate Friday Night

"Days of '98" To Be Relived; Many Elks Have "Handsome" Beards; To Have Banquet And Dance.

Friday night will see Coleman Elks, their wives and members of the Royal Purple jam their way into the Italian hall where they will "whooop it up" as they relived the celebrated and exciting "days of '98".

In addition to an entertaining program a banquet and dance has been arranged.

Innocent little youngsters have been looking with amazement at men who pass them on the street bearing the most "handsome" foliage on their cheeks and wondering "what has that man on his face, manliness?" The "sport" sporting the bushiest foliage will undoubtedly receive a gift and the plaudits of the crowd and may even get his "picture taken".

The event now an annual affair and Elks and the Royal Purple are looking forward to an evening of enjoyable entertainment.

Fire Prevention

Nine out of every 10 forest fires started in the province during 1947 had their origin in the carelessness of the citizens according to recent figures released by the Forestry Branch, Department of Lands & Mines.

Every year from Alberta's 150,000 square miles of forests containing over 30 billion square feet of saw material, pulp wood, cord wood, etc., material sufficient to build 80,000 homes is destroyed by forest fires. Lightning, fire bugs, explosions, sparks from trains etc., contribute to one in every ten of the fires with the average citizen being responsible for the remaining nine.

This year the Forestry Branch of the Department of Lands and Mines is embarking on an extensive educational campaign in an effort to reduce the vast amount of timber destroyed by this hazard. The campaign aimed at campers, hunters, farmers and John Q. Citizen emphasizes four simple points:

1. Hold your matches until it's cold — then pinch it to make sure.

2. Crush out your cigarette, cigar, pipe ashes. Use an ashtray. Never throw burning objects out a car window.

3. Drown your campfire, then stir and drown it again.

4. Ask about the law — and a permit — before burning grass, brush, fence rows or trash. Then follow safe rules; burn only on still evenings, have help handy, kill every spark.

Town Laborers Receive Wage Boost To $7 Per Day; Downed Tools Tuesday In Demanding Increased Wages

Sanitary Inspector Butterfield To Be Brought Here To Act Upon Three Points Of Sanitation; Crescent Shows Invited To Play Here In August.

There were few items of business before the City Fathers on Tuesday evening but the debate on wages for town labor and the fact that all street and ash employees had gone on "strike" Tuesday afternoon for higher wages resulted in that subject dominating almost two thirds of the council's deliberations in a two hours meeting. Present Mayor Abousaffy, Councillors Jenkins, Lowe, Ramsay and Wood.

Royal Canadian Shows, which had already been refused a summer date to play here, wired council asking permission to play here May 24-26. Since a show is scheduled to play Coleman in June Royal Canadian Shows was again refused. The Rodeo committee found that it would not suffer any business interference to the Rodeo, scheduled for July 31, by permitting Crescent Shows to play Coleman week of August 2. As a result permission was granted Crescent Shows to play here that week.

A letter was received from assessor J. S. D'Appollonia stating that anyone reshingling a roof must first secure a permit from the town office. By this means a record is made of improvements and facilitates the work of the assessor.

Cost of the new town truck and accessories amounted to $3,975. Account was authorized paid.

Council was told that ashes from McGillivray Creek tipple were being washed into the river above the intake, the cesspool of Coleman Hotel was seeping into the Sape-ta Bowling Alleys and the Grand Union cesspool which had given trouble during the winter would have to be re-examined. It was agreed that Sanitary Inspector Butterfield be brought from Edmonton to deal with all three cases.

A letter signed by three town employees was read by the mayor. It stated that due to increased cost of living they desired increased wages and that these wages be paid every two weeks rather than monthly as at present. Mayor Abousaffy also revealed that the two ashmen working Tuesday had come to him personally and told him that unless higher wages were paid immediately they were going on strike. Town Foreman Joe Malanchuk stated that he had come upon the ashmen quitting at 4 p.m. Tuesday and upon asking them "what goes on?" was told they had delivered 'an ultimatum to the mayor and were on strike.

Before debate was a few minutes old it had drawn in miners, teachers, janitors and common labor. However the first three were thrown out of the debate eventually and town labor discussed on its own merits.

Councillor Jenkins took the stand that the miners had received two dollars a day so why shouldn't town labor receive it. He was solidly opposed by the other councillors.

Discussion revealed that one employee had quit mine employment as it was too hard on him. Another was physically unable for a hard day's work. Some of the boys were immature for heavy work and the ashmen on more than one occasion had told the town foreman that they were not going to take any more than four loads of ashes daily.

Councillor Wood set the ball rolling towards a final settlement by moving that the employees get 85c per hour for a $6.80 per day wage. He failed to get support to his motion. Councillor Lowe moved for a 90c per hour rate for a $7.20 per day wage. He too failed to get support. Councillor Jenkins moved a $1 per hour wage rate for an $8 per day wage. No one supported him. Councillors Lowe and Wood, at the mayor's suggestion, compromised by councillor Wood moving an 87c per hour raise for $7 per day, this being seconded by councillor Lowe. The vote found councillor Ramsay supporting the motion and the debate was over.

Foreman Joe Malanchuk revealed that monthly ash collections totalled $303. Out of this amount $230 was paid in wages and the balance went in gas, oil, grease, repairs and truck depreciation.

Should the ashmen take advantage of every working hour their year's wages will total slightly more than $2000. It now is obvious that the ash department is taking a heavy loss in paying two men's wages with no provision made for the truck's maintenance and depreciation. Boosting monthly ash rates was only touched on briefly as council realizes that the public must be given more efficient service before an increase could be contemplated.

HOSPITAL PATIENTS

Patricia Sanyahyn, of East Coleman, was admitted to hospital during the week.

Jimmy Boudreau, a youngster, had his tonsils removed on Tuesday and lost no time in getting home once he was given the green light.

Mr. Frank Lescosak, of Blairmore, has been admitted to the local hospital where he remains a patient.

Mack Stigler is slowly making recovery to better health and has a number of visitors to see him daily.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

What Do You Think?

By ALAN TAYLOR

WAS it love or a matter of business? I've made up my mind but you'll have to make up your own. Let's start with this thing called love. To hear the young folks talk you'd think it was something invent- ed special for them. Well, if they're thinking about spooning in a parked car or holding hands on the sofa maybe it is. But that isn't the kind of love I have in mind.

The kind I'm thinking of reaches way down inside. It's deep and peace- ful like a pool covered with lily pads. That's the kind the sentimentalists say came to Bill Hendricks after he settled in our town to open a bakery store. On the other hand, the more material minded said it was just a smart dick on Bill's part and love had nothing to do with it. This kind would look silly as if they knew every- thing about everything. That Hend- ricks chap is pretty smart," they say.

Like I said, after you hear what happened you can make up your own mind. And after you do I think I'll know more about you and the town.

It started when Bill found nobody would buy his pies. After he'd given them to the "Orphan Home" for two weeks he began to think something was going wrong. He knew there was nothing wrong with his pies be- cause he used the best ingredients and prided himself on knowing how to put them together. His cakes and buns sold like all get out to add to the mystery. Bill hated mysteries so next time Fanny Graham came in he questioned her.

Fanny kept house for old Doc Wil- liams and knew everything that was worth knowing in Pleasantville and a lot that wasn't. Bill put on quite a sales talk about his pies. He explained what was in them and how he made them to the last degree of oven temperature. Fanny was sure they were delicious but didn't offer to buy. Bill scratched his head and adopted different tac- tics. He said, "Mrs. Graham, what in heck's wrong with my pies?"

"Oh, I'm sure there's nothing wrong."

"Then why don't folks buy them," exploded Bill.

Fanny smiled in a pitying way. "Well, most folks buy from Hannah."

After Fanny had gone, Bill phoned Ed. Pavy at the Bugle. When he got listening to Ed he knew as much about Hannah as anybody in town.

He knew she baked pies in her kitchen and told them on a little red wagon that Mark Shannon, the black- smith, had built special. "Yep," Ed had said, "I remember when she came from Ireland. Worked for the Paichulda before they moved to the city, then she kept house for Judge Benton till he died and left her the cottage on Maple Street. Took to baking pies and mothering all the boys in town. No, never did marry. Had plenty of offers though. Said she didn't love none of us in a marrying- way but I suspect she was too busy looking after other folk to find the time."

Bill lay awake longer than usual that night. A bachelor and turned fifty he wasn't a grasping man but figured he was entitled to a share of the pie trade. That's why he put a sign in the window next day announcing a price cut. Then he sat back and waited. Next day the sign said "Half Price." He sat and wait- ed some more but when he looked up he was desperate. Desperate enough to phone Fanny and ask her right out why she bought Hannah's pies instead of his. He detected a chuckle in Fanny's voice.

"Well, it's kind of hard to explain to a man," she said.

"Try," pleaded Bill.

"When Hannah calls around us women pay for more than just a pie. We get a piece of sunshine, too."

Bill's bushy brows shot up. "Sun- shine?"

"Yes, she leaves some of it every- place she goes." As if as though it were an afterthought, "Besides there's always time for a little gos- sip."

Bill quit baking pies and spent the time thinking hard on what Fanny had said.

When Hannah showed Bill into the parlor he took an immediate dislike to his own room. The Dresden and Worcester started it off. The wing- chair and glowing coals finished it. Looking into twinkling blue eyes he knew he shouldn't have come. Never- theless, after clearing his throat he moved to the attack. He pointed out how trying it must be having to pull a wagon all over town and wouldn't it be much easier if she sold to him at wholesale.

Hannah smiled and Bill had a pre- monition of defeat. "If a body en- joys doing it, it can't rightly be called work, can it now?"

Bill could only clear his throat.

"I love to bake," Hannah went on, "and as for pulling the wagon, sure and that's just visiting, and what woman doesn't like that?"

Bill coughed. Things weren't going right.

"I'm lucky," Hannah said. "Most women don't get time for visiting."

Bill knew when he was licked. He grunted once or twice then got up to go but somehow it was two hours and several pieces of pie before he got around to saying goodnight.

After that, Bill became a frequent visitor to the little parlor and folks wondered. I don't know why. If Hannah liked Bill's stubborn bluff- ness, if she felt the need of a strong shoulder once in a while, why, I guess that's love too.

As for those who figure that Bill made a right smart deal, well, it's true that the pie trade is a family monopoly now but when Bill told Hannah he loved her he meant it and being the kind of woman she was she knew it was true.

Farmer Has Narrow Escape With Train

ESTEVAN, Sask.—The train was going around a sharp curve on a grade about three miles west of Estevan.

The engineer, J. McKay, could not see the track ahead because of the curve.

The fireman, John Salmon, was busy firing, and the head brakeman, R. A. Phaneuf, was watching ahead through the fireman's window.

As the locomotive nosed around the curve Brakeman Phaneuf saw a man walking along the track, his back to the train.

The brakeman signalled the engine to make an emergency stop. The train ground to a halt.

But the man, his back to the train, kept walking.

The brakeman climbed from the engine, walked after the man and attracted his attention by tapping him on the shoulder.

The walker, John Klyne, Estevan district farmer, stepped from the right-of-way.

The train started again and as Brakeman Phaneuf climbed back in- to the cab the crew considered how fortunate it had been that the brake- man had signalled the engine to stop rather than blow a warning blast with the whistle.

Mr. Klyne, the crew found, was deaf, had been unaware of danger until the brakeman had tapped him on the shoulder.

It was four times the size of the normal issue.

FORT ST. JOHN.—Possibility of a 5,000-acre tract of fertile land 20 miles north of Fort St. John and west of the highway being developed as a big stock ranch is indicated in the announcement of the surveyor- general's office at Victoria that com- plete surveys of the area have been completed.

CRANEVIEW PORTAGE, Man.— Work is underway on construction of the long-sought highway to open The Pas and Flin Flon and open Manitoba's northern section of motor traffic in 1949.

THE PAS, Man.—Six hundred In- dians on the reservation near this northern Manitoba town have de- cided that smoke signals can never hope to compete with telephones. Word was received here that the reser- vation residents may soon have tele- phones and electric lights.

Over one-third of the members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Ameri- can Medical Association (wives of physicians) are nurses or former nurses.

"Iceologists" Of The North Busy Guessing Dawson Ice Breakup

DAWSON, Y.T.—With signs of spring in the air here in the northland, hundreds of Yukoners are looking to the big Dawson ice guessing contest to be decided by the breakup of the Yukon River ice six or seven weeks hence. Due to failure of the electrical timing device last May, last year's pool amounting to close to $4,000 was held over and will be decided on this year's breakup.

Consequently if the winner of this season's "pot" should also hold a similar number on last season's ice stake, he or she will be richer by al- most double the original amount.

While final figures will not be available for some time yet, this year's pool, it is estimated, will run between $3,000 and $4,000.

"Iceologists" of the north are hav- ing a hard time this spring trying owing to the unusual mild weather of the past winter. Some believe that this may mean an early break- up, while others claim it doesn't have anything to do with the historic an- nual event.

In previous years the ice has moved out in front of Dawson anywhere from May 1 to 15, with the exception of a few rare times.

Scores of ice pool cards around town offer hundreds of dollars worth of merchandise and other prizes to the person guessing the correct minute.

The main ice pool winner has to hold the exact day, hour and minute.

Highway Officials To Organize

HARRISON HOT SPRINGS.—Or- ganization of Canadian highway of- ficials is to be undertaken at once. Northwest Highway Association at its final convention session decided to form the new professional group beginning with the four western provinces and expanding to the eastern and maritime provinces.

Next meeting of the association will be held in Saskatchewan, proba- bly in the fall. W. W. Perrie, chief engineer, Saskatchewan, is chairman, and W. N. Stewart, maintenance en- gineer, Saskatchewan, secretary.

Directors are Walter Youngman, assistant chief engineer for Manitoba, Alex Frame, highway commissioner for Alberta and Evan S. Jones, New Westminster district engineer for B.C. Public works ministers of the four provinces are honorary officers, to figure the "dope" on the breakup.

More than 16,310,000 women are employed in the United States.

SMOKEY, THE FIRE-PREVENTIN' BEAR ASKS

"Who set the 80,000 home
bonfire?"

Last year forest fires destroyed enough timber to build over 80,000 five-room homes! Who started the majority of these fires? Not lightning. Lightning starts less than one in ten.

Then is it criminals or crazy fire-bugs? No! They start only a small fraction of the thousands of forest fires Alberta suffered last year.

Could it be such a thing as explosions, sparks from trains, auto accidents, etc.? No, again. It's true that these things start some fires but compared to the big fire-starters they are insignificant.

Now for the real culprit! Almost all forest fires — nine out of ten to be exact — are caused by good Alberta citizens like you! Carelessness robs Albertans of hundreds of homes a year.

Remember— ONLY YOU CAN PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Queen Of Dauphin Winter Carnival

JOAN JOHANNESSON

When I entered the contest to choose a queen for the Winter Carnival at home, that is in Dauphin, Man., I knew that the winner would get a flight to and from Toronto and five days of sightseeing there. But I didn't have any idea how hectic, or how wonderful, a trip like that could be.

I still have to pinch myself a bit to make sure it has really happened! I've enjoyed every minute of it, even when so many new things rather overwhelmed me, but if it had not been for the good friends who planned my time, and looked after me through all the many different engagements I've filled, I know I would have been completely lost.

First of all I must say I like Toronto very much. This is the first time I've ever been there—in fact it's the first time I've travelled very much outside Manitoba—though the dozens of places to see and the variety of things to do would be very confusing if there wasn't someone to guide you around.

I landed at the airport outside Toronto on a Sunday night after the first plane flight I've ever made. After we reached a downtown hotel, I went through what most people think is an ordeal—a press interview. The newspaper photographers took pictures and talked a bit about my visit and they were all very nice.

But that was nothing to the Monday morning episode when I met the Mayor of Toronto in his City Hall office, gave him greetings from Mayor Bullmore of Dauphin, signed the City of Toronto guest book which has hundreds of famous names in it, and the Mayor gave me an official welcome to Toronto. Mayor McCallum wasn't anything like I'd imagined. Instead of being stiff and formal he was warm and friendly. Most newspaper reporters and photographers trooped in, asked a lot of questions about my trip and took more pictures.

I got to know a lot about photographers on my visit. They seemed to pop up almost everywhere I went. I saw a fashion show at one of Toronto's big department stores, and had a complete beauty treatment and conducted shopping tour at another. I was taken to dinner dances at famous Casa Loma and toured this big castle, and at hotels where some of the "name" bands play. Cars took me all around Toronto—and I couldn't help but be impressed with the size of the city—saw the Royal Ontario Museum, the University, the provincial Parliament Buildings, and even had dinner at Toronto's newest and most ornate Chinese restaurant. One afternoon I bowled, but though I roll a fair game in leagues at home, my scores here just aren't worth recording. Maybe the hectic rush threw me off my game.

One afternoon I went to Sunnybrook Hospital, the largest and newest hospital for veterans in Canada. It is an enormous place and beautifully fitted out. Col. Hollis, who is in charge, arranged for me to go all through Sunnybrook, which is still not completed, and I talked to Albert Carriere, a Winnipeg veteran whose home is now in Brandon, who is a patient there. I also met many of the other patients and couldn't help but be impressed by their cheerfulness.

The high spot of my trip though was when I made my first radio broadcast with Claire Wallace, on her program "They Tell Me". I'd never been in a radio broadcasting studio before but Miss Wallace helped me get over my nervousness about being "on the air" and Mayor Bullmore wired to tell me afterward that the program sounded very good at home. They took a photograph of me talking to the mike, too!

It was a real thrill, doing so many things most people just dream about, but the biggest thrill of all was finding everyone so kind to me.

I'm going to have a lot of things to put into my scrapbook—but I don't think Toronto will mind too much if I say I'm glad to be home again. I guess it's a thrill being the centre of attraction for a while but it's still nice to get back to the people you know and the town you live in.

Ed. Note — We had the personal pleasure of meeting Joan who we are proud to say, made a very fine impression on everybody she met. Claire Wallace and other radio folks say she has a good voice on the air. Dauphin, Man., should be happy that such a good representative of their locality came to the East and this 19-year-old young lady will long remember her various thrills in Toronto.

NEW U.S. STAMP TO HONOR PROGRESS OF WOMEN

WASHINGTON. — President Truman has directed the post office department to issue a special stamp to mark "100 years of progress by the women of America." It will be a three-center. The first day's sale will be at Seneca Falls, N.Y., where the first woman's rights convention was held in 1848.

POLLY'S ALMOST HUMAN

NANAIMO, B.C. — Miss Lillian Hickling's 45-year-old parrot eats porridge and vegetables and drinks nothing but tea and coffee with cream. Polly is fond of kittens and young pups, stroking them gently with her claws. 2771

Alaska Farming Season Short, Yields High

Experimental Plots Returned Maximum Yields Of 60 Bushels Of Wheat Per Acre—Potatoes Main Crop

EDMONTON. — Any who wonder about the agricultural possibilities along the Alaska Highway will be interested in a report by Dr. Basil Bensin, the agronomist at the Alaska Experimental Station, Fairbanks.

With proper preparation of soil and use of fertilizers, the experimental plots returned maximum yields of 60 bushels of wheat, 50 of barley and 100 bushels of oats per acre, he reports. Wheat matures in 90 to 110 days and oats in 80 to 95. Average length of the growing season is 89 days.

A barley that matures under all growing season conditions seems to be the most dependable grain crop for Alaska and may be considered basic for feeding livestock, says Dr. Bensin. He said the Fairbanks station obtained and developed some early varieties of barley "which mature in Alaska in 85 to 70 days, even under unfavorable seasonal conditions."

Legumes and perennial vetch best adapted for hays in Alaska came from Siberia. The main sources of grains introduced into Alaska are eastern Siberia, Finland, Sweden and northern Canada, where climatic conditions are comparable, he said. A great contribution was made in 1944 by Henry A. Wallace, when he returned from a trip to China and Russia and brought samples of grain obtained from Yakutsk experimental station in Siberia said Dr. Bensin.

Of Alaska's total area of close to 600,000 square miles only a small percentage can be used for farming, generally estimated at 65,000 square miles. This means that only 11 per cent. can be developed into arable land, another six per cent. or about 35,000 square miles being suitable for grazing.

Mostly the prospective agricultural areas have not been surveyed, classified or evaluated. Most of the land suited to grain growing, essential to developing a livestock industry, lies

Five Children Best Lawyers For Father

NEW YORK. — A Brooklyn judge listened unmoved while defence lawyers pleaded for a suspended sentence for Richard K. Lukeman, 30.

Then the judge, Samuel Leibowitz, sentenced Lukeman to a year in prison for fraudulently collecting $17,000 in a summer camp for children promotion. Lukeman asked to say goodbye to his children.

The five youngsters—all under eight years of age—trooped tearfully into the ante-room where their father waited. The judge watched, wiped his own eyes, then called Lukeman and the children before him.

"These five children are your best lawyers," he said. "They can do for you what oratory couldn't do."

He suspended the sentence.

along river valleys. Coastal regions are unsuitable.

Average precipitation at Fairbanks is 11.67 inches and mean July temperature 60 degrees.

Main staple crop in Alaska is not grain but potatoes and the cost of production about $200 an acre as from 100 to 700 lbs. of fertilizer is used. It is a hazardous crop dependent entirely on local demand. Other vegetable crops are successfully grown.

I WANT TO KNOW...

What's the unusual feature of the family income plan?

The Family Income Plan is a life insurance policy specially designed for the man with a family. A small additional cost to the ordinary life premium provides a $10 or $15 monthly income for each $1000 of protection. In the event of death before a specified age, this income is paid regularly to his family until this age would have been reached. At the end of that time his family receives the full face value of the policy in addition. This plan is particularly valuable before the time children become self-supporting.

ARE YOU GETTING THE TAX DEDUCTIONS YOU ARE ENTITLED TO?

The Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide shows you how!

How much can you deduct for depreciation on your tractor? Your automobile? A shed? What expenses can you deduct? There are 75 articles in common farm use plus a wide variety of deductible expenses for which depreciation can be charged—all listed in the new Farm Account Book. These legal deductions from your income are a big question at Income Tax Time and the answers to them and to dozens of other questions are in this new Farm Account Book.

A Record of Your Transactions and a Guide to Your Income Tax Return

WHAT IT DOES—Keeps a clean record, helps you budget—and shows you whether you have made or lost money on your operations. Shows you, too, what your best lines are and where you may be farming at a loss. Saves you hours of time from book keeping. First ten pages are for your receipts—from sales of crops, seeds, livestock, poultry, dairy products and all other produce. Then come twelve pages of all farm expenses—you are reminded of items you might otherwise forget. Establish a basic herd, apply for the three-year-average plan, calculate your depreciation item by item. These are money-savers for every farmer. They're all in the new Farm Account Book.

DEDUCTIONS—Every farmer is entitled to deductions and he is expected by the department to take full advantage of his rights. The Farm Account Book tells you about many items in easy question-and-answer form. For instance—"What can I claim as expenses for repairs?" The answer is "any expense to keep a machine or a building in working order can be claimed." Altogether there are answers to over 60 questions. No one is required to pay more than his fair share of tax. Comments from Letters on the New Farm Account Book and Income Tax Guide: "A long awaited step for the benefit and progress of our Canadian farmers" . . . "Takes the kinks out of keeping farm records" . . . "Pleased to recommend this Account Book for farm people" . . . "Record keeping in its simplest form—a real help" . . . "Something we have been needing for a long time".
